

Charges for navigation services in 2019

New unit rates for navigation charges for the services provided by the Polish Air Navigation Services Agency come into effect on 1 January 2019.

PANSA provides air navigation services in FIR Warszawa to all users of the Polish airspace. To cover the cost related to the provision of the above mentioned services PANSA shall collect the following charges:

1. air navigation charge for en-route service (ENR)
2. terminal navigation service charge for terminal navigation service (TNC).

ENR - unit rate for en-route service charge in 2019

Pursuant to the binding regulations the unit rate of the en-route service charge (ENR) proposed by Poland has been analysed and approved by the enlarged Commission of the European Organization for the Safety of Air Navigation – EUROCONTROL in the following amount:

ENR – the basic unit rate of the en-route charge for 2019 amounts to PLN 175,02 (equal to EUR 40,73 at exchange rate 1 EUR=4,29686 PLN). Additionally, an administrative charge of EUR 0,14 per service unit shall be added to the unit rate and collected by CRCO for the maintenance of multilateral en-route charging system (the total unit rate – EUR 40,87) . Basic unit rates are adjusted every month by recalculation of an exchange rate between the euro and Polish Zloty (PLN - the national currency). The actual and historical monthly adjusted unit rates can be found at <http://www.eurocontrol.int/services/monthly-adjusted-unit-rates>

The en-route charge is calculated, billed and collected on behalf of PANSA by Central Route Charges Office of EUROCONTROL in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{ENR charge} = \text{unit rate} \times \text{flown distance in km}/100 \times \sqrt{\text{MTOW}/50}$$

TNC - unit rates for terminal navigation service charge in 2019

Two separate charging zones were established in FIR Warsaw on 21 December 2018 by the President of Polish Civil Aviation Authority.
